ASK provides enlisted soldiers the "key" to update their assignment preference and volunteer locations, contact information, and special duty requests through the Internet by using their Army Knowledge Online (AKO) account ID and password.

Soldier Assignment Module

SAM provides virtually instant capability for the Assignment Managers and Professional Development NCOs to identify open requirements a soldier may be eligible for, provides the capabilities to hone in on the most eligible soldier and (on the same screen) identifies volunteers for a specific assignment or type of assignment.

Improving Your Chances

Improving Your Chances

- Get someone senior in grade to you to review your records... preferably a CSM/SGM that sat on the board; if not available, any CSM/SGM
- Follow the career map to the best of your ability – Working with DA and or the local senior installation Chemical NCO
- Don't ticket punch!
- Get counseled; make it a working issue

- Keep your records updated; not just the year before a board
- Take your photo now; don't wait until board time; Take your DA photo within a year of the board's convene date or for significant change
- The NCO-ER: without question the most important tool the board members will use to judge your file

- Diversity in assignments is important; seek out the “tough” jobs
- Get inducted SAMC, SMC; NCO of the Year, etc.
- Tough assignment + solid ratings = a strong file
